For giving our students more awareness about this and with the aim to make them responsible Indian citizens, "Awareness about Lok Adalat: Dispute Resolution System in India" was hosted on 13/08/2021 by Eshan Club and Labour Court Advocate Sh. S.C. Verma in the campus.

138 participants were present and our honourable judge The institution of Lok Adalats have evolved as one of the most important modes of alternative dispute resolution. The Lok Adalat originated from the failure of the Indian legal system to provide fast, effective, and affordable justice. The evolution of this movement was a part of the strategy to relieve the heavy burden on the courts with cases pending disposal. Lok Adalats are a blend of all three forms of traditional ADR: arbitration, mediation, and conciliation. They use conciliation, with elements of arbitration given that decisions are typically binding, and are an illustration of legal decentralization as conflicts are returned to communities from whence they originated for local settlement. Therefore, alternative dispute resolution mechanism is sine quo non for our Indian judicial system.

Our Director thanked him and was highly obliged that he accepted to make this programme a massive success. A memento was presented to him and he also expressed how happy he was getting engaged with youth.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION

I am writing to express my extreme gratitude for being chosen again to deliver the lecture in Eshan College of Engineering, Mathura. I am so thankful for your support. I have good opportunity as a lawyer to aware the student about lok adalat in india. Lok Adalat is one of the significant components of the Alternative Dispute Resolution system. Lok Adalat means People's Court. It is a forum where the disputes which are pending in a court or are at the pre-litigation stage are settled cordially.

The system of Lok Adalat is based on Gandhian Principles. The Constitution of India has defined a common goal for its citizens to secure all the citizens of India – Justice (social, economic and political), Liberty, Equality and Fraternity.

I hope students will enjoy and aware about the lok adalat and again I am thankful to all members of Eshan College of Engineering, Mathura.
